

FORTHE FARMER.

Farm and Garden.

A COUNTRY LIFE.

How sacred and how innocent
A country life appears,
How free from tumult, discontent,
From flattery or fears!
This was the first and happiest life,
When man enjoyed himself,
Till pride exchanged peace for strife,
And happiness for self.
'Twas here the poets were inspired,
Here taught the multitude;
The brave they here with honor fired,
And civilized the rude.
That golden age did entertain
No passion but of love;
The thoughts of ruling and of gain
Did ne'er their fancies move.
Them that do covet only rest,
A cottage will suffice;
It is not brave to be possessed
Of earth, but to despise.
Opinion is the rate of things,
From hence our peace doth flow;
I have a better fate than kings,
Because I think it so.
When all the stormy world doth roar,
How unconcerned am I!
I cannot fear to tumble lower,
Who never could be high.
Secure in these unenvied walls,
I think not on the state,
And pity no man's case that falls
From his ambition's height.
Silence and innocence are safe;
A heart that's nobly true,
At all these little arts can laugh,
That do the world subdue!

Why Don't my Orchard Produce Better?

The above inquiry is often made, and with some at least, I apprehend, without much investigation to ascertain for themselves the cause which, in most cases, to a close observer and a rational thinker, would be found so plain as to need no reply. I will instance one case of a similar inquiry, out of many of a similar character, that might be added. A neighbor, pointing to his orchard, wished to know what I thought could be the reason that his trees, which used to bear so finely, and which were not old, had for several years become so barren? I asked him how long it had been mowed without manure? His reply was, sixteen or seventeen years. I asked him how long he thought his cornfield would produce under similar treatment? Well he supposed it wouldn't do very well; but he didn't know but apple trees would bear without manure? Such are the limited views of some; but it is probable there are few farmers, or fruit cultivators but that would reason very differently. I visited another orchard in Nova Scotia of about two hundred trees; the ground was in a good state of cultivation, and the trees and fruit showed a very striking contrast to the one alluded above, and the results much more satisfactory. The proprietor informed me that he sold his apples the preceding fall for $1200 and he thought his present crop would be five hundred barrels, worth two dollars per barrel, giving him $2200 for two years. It is an old, and I think true maxim, what is worth doing is worth well doing; and as it has been proved beyond question, that no part of farming will reward the husbandman equal to fruit raising, it often looks strange to me that so large a majority of orchards should be left to take care of themselves, and then charged with blame for unfruitfulness, when it belongs to the owner.

Count the Cost.

From carefully conducted experiments by different persons, it has been ascertained that one bushel of corn will make a little over 104 pounds of pork—gross. Taking the result as a basis, the following deductions are made, which all our farmers would do well to lay by for a convenient reference.—Thus:
When corn costs 12 1/2 cents per bushel, pork costs 11 cents per pound.
When corn costs 17 cents per bushel, pork costs 2 cents per pound.
When corn costs 25 cents per bushel, pork costs 3 cents per pound.
When corn costs 33 cents per bushel, pork costs 4 cents per pound.
When corn costs 50 cents per bushel, pork costs 5 cents per pound.
The following statements show what the farmer realizes in his corn when sold in the form of pork:
When pork sells for 3 cents per pound, it brings 25 cents per bushel in corn.
When pork sells for 4 cents per pound, it brings 32 cents per bushel in corn.
When pork sells for 5 cents per pound, it brings 45 cents per bushel in corn.

Fall Planting of Trees

We should say that we have always found early planting out in the fall best. As soon as the tree or shrub is done growing for the season, is the very nick of time for this work to be done. The advantage of this is the giving the roots time before the arrival of hard frosts, to fasten to the soil, and thus give it more firmness, as well as additional power to resist the severity of the winter. Fall transplanting is to be preferred for uplands, generally, or other soils of a naturally dry, silicious character. Spring transplanting is best in most heavy or argillaceous soils.—Germantown Telegraph.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Mean men are subject to tight fits.
Hypocrites and villains, like other reptiles, are cold-blooded.
In India, a lac of rupees is wealth; here, a lack of dollars is poverty.
Consumptives who swallow the cod-liver theory are dose-ile creatures.
It is folly to poison present bliss by desiring that which cannot present be.
The recent railroad slaughters give additional significance to the word cor-nage.
Between artlessness and heartlessness there is only the difference of an aspiration.
There is a man in Windsor so habitually sleepy, that his curiosity cannot be awakened.
A friend has a dog so very serious, that even his tail has not the least bit of a wag about it.
We have seen ladies not only too weak to learn food, but even too weak to bear contradiction.
The test of friendship—there is nothing like a prison pavement to ring out old friends upon.
A suspicious man—he'd search a pinchion for treason, and see daggers in a needle-case.
It may sound like a paradox, yet the breaking of an army's wings is a sure way to make it fly.
An old soaker down East, accounts for his perpetual thirst by the fact that he was weaned on salt fish.
Ambition is a journey up hill, in which rest can be taken only on peril of sliding down by one's own weight.
Women can easily preserve their youth—for she who cultivates the heart and understanding never grows old.
The easiest and best way to expand the chest is, to have a good, large heart in it. It saves the cost of gymnastics.
Somebody says, a wife should be like a roasted lamb—tender and nicely dressed. A scamp adds, and without sauce.
A man who had named married twice, to ladies both named Catharine, advised his friends against taking duplicates.
Of those who travel the matrimonial road, a great many are completely jailed out before reaching their journey's end.
The man who "took a walk," the other day, brought it back again; the next day, he took a ride, and went off with it.
If you fall into misfortune, disengage yourself as well as you can. Creep through the bushes that have the fewest briars.
"There, John, that's twice you've come home and forgotten that lar!" "La mother, it was so greasy that it slipped my mind."
A man is a brute to be jealous of a good woman—a fool to be jealous of a worthless one; but double fool to cut his throat for either of them.
It is a misplaced politeness to ask full-hooped young lady to take a seat in an arm-chair. We prefer putting an arm to the chair after the lady is in it.
It is a sad commentary upon the course of instruction pursued in young ladies' schools, that the graduates seldom know how to decline an offer of marriage.
A negro lately fell from the upper story of a warehouse in Charleston, S. C. a distance of about thirty feet, striking head first on the top of a whiskey barrel. The result was—the barrel leaked.
An administrator on the estate of a deceased female, in New Hampshire, advertises for sale at auction; "The wearing apparel of Mrs. A. O—, deceased, consisting of one bed, two carpets, and one sleigh."
Never marry a man until you see him cut. Let the candidate for your hand pass through the ordeal of eating soft-boiled eggs. If he can do it, and leave the table spread, the napkin, and his shirt unspotted, take him.
A colored servant, sweeping out a hotel-boarder's room, found a sixpence, which he carried to its owner. "You may keep it for your honesty," he said. Shortly after he missed his gold pencil-case, and inquired of the servant if he had seen it. "Yes, sar," was the reply. "And what did you do with it?" "Keep um for my honesty."
A traveler among other narrations of wonders of foreign parts, declared he knew a cane a mile long. The company looked incredulous, and it was evident they were not prepared to swallow it, even if it had been a sugar cane. "Pray what kind of a cane was it?" asked a gentleman, sneeringly. "It was a hurricane," replied the traveler.
An Irish advertisement says: a reward of $5 is offered for the apprehension of Patrick O'Flaherty, who last week stole the jackass, which same had on a pair of corduroy breeches, with blue eyes, and smokes a short pipe; much given to squinting, and likewise his shoes let down at the heel.
Sir Walter Scott declared that these four lines, by Robert Burns, were worth a thousand romances:—
"Had we never lov'd sae kindly—
Had we never lov'd sae blindly—
Never met—or never parted—
We had ne'er been broken hearted."

"It is the duty of every citizen of this Great Republic to foster and encourage native genius and American enterprise."—WESLEYAN

"THE GREAT REPUBLIC" MONTHLY.

A Magazine devoted entirely to the elevation of American authorship, wholly national, in no wise sectional or sectarian; having for its motto the words of the great statesman:—"No North, No South, No East, No West;" having nothing to do with politics, aiming only at the highest in art, literature and science, and employing the best writers in every branch, is again before the American public seeking their support.

This Magazine is now finishing the first year, and drawing near the close of the SEVENTH VOLUME, and has met with unparalleled success.

THE THIRD VOLUME Will commence with the number for January, 1859, which will be issued early in December, 1859. Every number will be splendidly illustrated in the highest style of art. Among the numerous contributors engaged for the coming year are the following well known distinguished authors:

THE PROPHECY; OR, SCENES OF BORDER LIFE. BY ELIZABETH OAKES SMITH.

THE SLAVER OF THE COAST; OR, THE AFRICAN TRADER. BY CALHOUN W'KENZIE.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC MONTHLY is the largest Magazine published in this country.—Over $40,000 has been already expended to bring it to its present high degree of merit. The publishers are determined to give it the LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE WORLD. With this view they make the following Magnificent Offers.

And they refer to every subscriber now on their books as to the fidelity with which they fulfill their obligations.

TERMS:

Single Copies, - - - - $0 25
Subscription, per year, - - - - 3 00
Clubs, of three or more, each - - - 2 00
Any one sending a Club of FIVE subscribers, with the money, shall receive, by mail, his choice of either of the following magnificent Steel Engravings, viz:
THE LAST SUPPER. Size of plate, 25 by 40 inches. Value, $5.
THE CITY OF THE GREAT KING. Size of plate, 25 by 29 inches. Value, $5.
THE PALACE OF WESTMINSTER. Size of plate 25 by 33. Value, $5.
SIR WALTER SCOTT'S MONUMENT.—Size of plate, 25 by 34 inches. Value, $4.
THE PRINCE OF WALES, OH, LORD. Size of plate, 21 by 25 inches. Value, $3.
ROBERT BURNS. Size of plate, 21 by 25 inches. Value, $3.

Any one sending a Club of TEN subscribers shall receive his choice of any TWO of above engravings. Any one sending a Club of FIFTEEN subscribers shall receive his choice of any four of above engravings. Any one sending a Club of TWENTY subscribers shall receive ALL of the above engravings, and a copy of the Magazine for one year, gratis.

This splendid offer will enable any one, by a very trifling exertion, in getting subscribers, to obtain as fine a collection of RARE WORKS OF ART TO ADORN HIS PARLOR, as can be obtained anywhere for TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS, cash.

Young gentlemen and young ladies, all over the country, are invited to get up clubs on above terms.

Postmasters, and other respectable persons who may desire to act as Agents, and to receive a cash commission instead of the above liberal offer, are authorized to forward us subscribers at the above named prices, deducting twenty per cent. for their trouble.—The engravings will be sent in rotation, in the order in which the Clubs are sent in.

IN ADDITION to the above unparalleled offer we now announce that where parties do not form clubs and that where their names are not sent in clubs, that SINGLE SUBSCRIBERS SEND US THE AMOUNT SET opposite to each of the above Engravings, shall receive by mail the Engraving chosen and one copy of the Magazine for one year.

Some of these engravings are of THREE times the value of those offered by the other ART UNION, and all of them are better and of more intrinsic worth than any engraving ever offered by any "Gift Enterprise" or "Art Association."

"The Last Supper," and "The City of the Great King," should adorn the walls of every Clergyman and scholar in the country. No such offers as these were ever made before—there is no "CHANCE" in the matter no "LOTTERY," no gift enterprise, no humbug. We call upon Clergymen, Postmaster travelers, scholars, and all who are interested in the success of American Literature and ART, to avail themselves of these generously liberal offers. In addition to all of the above, any one sending a dollar and a half extra ($1.50) shall receive the twelve back numbers of the Magazine from January, 1859, forming a PRECIOUS SET of the "GREAT REPUBLIC" MONTHLY from its commencement.

All subscriptions invariably in advance, and no deviation from above terms. No further instructions necessary to those forming clubs or to Agents. Give name and Post Office address in full. All sums over three dollars should be sent by draft, if convenient. Money by mail, property authenticated, at our risk. Postage stamps and all current bills received at par.

The Magazine is for sale by all news dealers in the United States and Canada. The trade supplied at Publishers' prices, by ROSS & TOWSE, H. DEXTER & CO., R. M. DEWITT, HENDRICKSON BLAKE & LONG, in New York, and by all the large dealers in the principal cities.

Specimen copies sent upon the receipt of 25 cents. The engraving will be sent on rollers, prepaid, or by express.

ECONOMY IN FUEL.

GAS BURNING COOKING STOVE. GEORGE HUNTLEY, Dealer in all kinds of COOKING, HEATING AND PAILOIR STOVES, would respectfully call the attention of the public to one of the greatest improvements ever made in Cooking Stoves—the burning of the Gas and smoke arising from the coal—by which means is saved fifty per cent. of Fuel. The improvements claimed are—

1st—A great saving of Fuel.
2d—A much quicker and hotter oven from the same fire.
3d—The preservation of the top plates, as they are all made double.
4th—Cleanliness, as there is not one half the soot and dirt found in other stoves.
